

How Important to You are Competitive Prices?

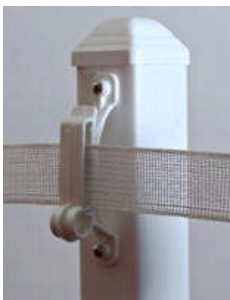

General

We are sure you often wonder why you cannot purchase our products through the traditional farming outlets. To be very honest, we do not know the real reasons either, but each and every time we have made an effort with one of those companies, we have been turned down. We always thought that the traditional farming outlets had only the farmer's interests in mind and were looking for the best deal (price/performance wise)! We have learnt otherwise!

This morning we received another of those flyers from one of these companies offering equine fencing products with 20 % rebate. Looking at those items we can honestly say that we do not have to offer a 20 % rebate to beat their offer. Our regular prices are more economical and this all year round! The quality we offer is at least equal and our service is unmatched by our competitors which for us is very important.

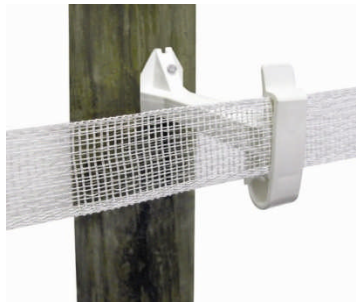

Here are a few examples to prove our point:
